The Band.

The Stanford Amateur Band made most excellent music on yesterday at the Fair.

Hon. J. W. Menzies.

This gentleman, independent candidate for the Appellate Judgeship, was at the Fair yesterday.

The Fair.

The crowd at the Fair on yesterday, was hardly as large as usual on the first day, but the show of stock was very fair. Our countryman, J. S. Owsley, carried off many premiums on his fine cattle.

Religious.

Elder S. H. King will preach at the Christian church on to-morrow (Saturday) morning at 11 o'clock. Also next Sunday morning.

Rev. Charles Taylor will preach at the M. E. church, South, on next Sunday morning and evening.

Beautiful Views.

Professor F. J. Jeffries, of Virginia, an invalid of twenty-four years, with his mammoth gallery of beautiful life-size views is on the fair grounds to-day, and will remain in the town a few days. Visit his car and see and enjoy 52 sunlight views for the small sum of 15 cents.

Handsome Property For Sale.

We recently published some bills for the heirs of the late Doctor Thomas Welch, in which the property for sale the homestead with 50 or more acres of choice land attached. An owner in want of a delightful home, at the famous Crab Orchard springs, would do well to examine the property. As a summer home for a city man, this place cannot be excelled.

Five Potatoes.

Mr. P. L. Simpson, an adopted citizen of our country, brought into our office last Saturday a lot of the matchless Early Rose Irish potatoes, which are a little ahead of anything in this line we have ever seen. By the way, it is our firm conviction that this is the best variety of potato extant—for early or late use; and our friends should always plant them largely, if not exclusively.

Magnificent.

The fruit crop of this county, with the single exception of peaches, is a most magnificent one. In all our orchards, the trees are laden with apples of all varieties; and we predict that during the fall and winter months, they will be almost too cheap to pay for the gathering. We rejoice to know this, as such fruit is very valuable; and we hope that all our friends may be enabled to lay up a full store for winter.

The Stanford Journal wants to be called the Interior Journal of Stanford—but life is too short.

There is no such paper as the "Stanford Journal." We asked to be called by our proper name—INTERIOR JOURNAL, and we find that it is no longer name than the one given by you to your paper, as each has just fifteen letters in it. A name should signify something—ours does, being a journal of the news, &c., of Interior Kentucky.

Buy It.

We mean, the entire block of the court-house square. What do you think it would cost each tax payer? By actual figuring, we find that it would not exceed 5 cents on the $1000 of taxable property. That is, in plain terms, a man who is worth $1,000, taxable estate, would have to pay 50 cents, one worth $5,000—the small sum of $1 50. The individual worth $5,000, would pay $2 50. The one worth $10,000, would pay $5 00, and so on. Who would hesitate to pay so small a sum, in order to secure our handsome new court edifice from destruction by fire? If there be one of our citizens who would grumble at this small tax, then we could be assured that his soul would "rattle in the hull of a tobacco case."

Bankrupt Law.

The bankrupt law is still in force, but liable to be repealed at any session of Congress. Those who may be in pecuniary distress, and unable to lift the burden from their shoulders, can do so by the benefit of this law. A discharge does not hinder an honest man from paying honest debts, but rather aids him in such a laudable endeavor.

Moore, E. H. Davis, W. H. King, and W. H. Hughes, brought into our office the other day, the largest ever caught in this country, measuring in length four feet and in circumference eight inches. It was caught in Hanging Fork with a small hook and line.

FROM SOMERSET.

SOMERSET, Ky., July 25th, 1872.

Correspondence Interior Journal.

It is hard to write for a first-class weekly paper, unless you have something to write about, and the INTERIOR JOURNAL must excuse me for his seeming remiss of duty.

Our town and county has been unusually quiet for the last few weeks. No sensational rumor or important events have occurred recently. Our merchants, lawyers, doctors, hotel keepers and others are quietly taking their rest, waiting for customers, trouble, sickness and travelers, their greatest consolation being found in the columns of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, New York Tribune and Courier-Journal, all of which are assiduously at work to save our country from ruin.

The lax club is frequently disturbed by the twinging of a horse shoe coming from the hands of some fellow pitching merely to strengthen and more fully develop his "Greedy" muscle, or by the voice of some stanch old Palanski farmer or miner crying for "leaf tobacco" and down with Grant and his taxes, which are crushing the poor man.

The Democracy here are all for Greeley and Brown, and I learn that many of the Republicans are awakening to a sense of duty, laying aside Democratic prejudice, and coming out boldly for the philosophy.

The Greeley Club of this place is doing good service and will send up a good report in November next.

The candidates for Congress were in our city on Saturday last, except Breckinridge. Durham, Hoskins and Talbot made speeches to a small audience, but few of our citizens hearing of their appointment. There were some sharp and cutting remarks between Durham and Talbot, and some of our citizens are predicting that their fight will terminate a good deal like the fight of the "Kilgorey" etc.

When the gallant Col. Harker enters our town you can immediately see smiling faces with hearts plum full of gratitude. After will our good citizens forget him who came to their rescue when all was danger around them, and rest assured he will be remembered on the first Monday in August next.

HEAVY RAINS.

We have had heavy rains here every day, with exception of two, since the 9th inst., which has injured our oat and grass crops considerably and wheat slightly. Our corn looks very promising indeed.

WHEAT CROPS.

The threshing season has commenced. I saw a specimen of John A. Woods' crop the other day. The grains were large and fully developed, yielding a fraction over 30 bushels to the acre.

TEMPERANCE.

The temperance convention met some days since in this place. Speeches were made by Col. Morrow, W. B. Moore and others. The object of the meeting being to devise plans, appoint committees, &c., for the purpose of visiting retailers of intoxicating liquors out of our county the first Monday in August.

FIVE SHEEP.

Our enterprising farmer, John A. Woods, passed through our town a few days since with four fine sheep purchased in Lincoln county.

WHITLEY VS. PULASKI.

We had a very interesting trial before our last county court in the nature of a bastardy warrant against Mr. Steel, of Whitley, sued out by Miss Mills, of Pulaski. Messrs. Denton and Morrow appeared for the prosecution and Messrs. Wilson and Lester, of Williamsburg, for the defense. Mr. Steel deposed as a witness in a very ludicrous and not-entirely kind of a manner, and the speeches were bitter, sweet, eloquent and sympathetic, but the result was a hung jury. Messrs. Wilson and Lester, the latter a very promising young lawyer formerly of our town, will meet Messrs. Denton and Morrow at our next county court, and say they will then touch them that neither the female or legal "mills" of Pulaski can grind Whitley "steel."

DEATH.

Mrs. Lizzie Biddow, wife of J. N. Biddow, departed this life on the 12th inst. of hemorrhage of the lungs. She spent the day with a friend and died very suddenly after her return home. She was an estimable lady, and a devoted member of the Baptist church. She has now gone to that mansion prepared for those who put their trust in God. Her bereaved husband and little children have our deepest sympathies.

ALERT.

Hon. Matt Adams.

This gallant young Kentucky Democrat; the hero of several hotly contested races for Congress in the Radical mountain district, was in our town on last Tuesday. He is the very picture of health and progressive Democracy. Mr. Adams is again a candidate for re-election, with fearful odds against him, but, in the future, as in the past, he will, doubtless, come out with a victorious shout. The fact is, he cannot, and should not be defeated. We had hopes that our last legislature could so arrange his district as to render his chances for re-election less doubtful. It could have been done, and the gallant races he has heretofore run—the victories he has gained, entitle him to all the protection we could possibly give him by legislation. However, we do not fear the result. He is simply invincible; and the Radical who may have the temerity to tackle him on the stump, will find that "Jordan is a hard road to travel." We shall hail his re-election as a triumph over the minions of Radicalism.

Debating Society.

At a recent meeting held by a number of young gentlemen of our town, a debating society was organized and given the name of the Interior Debating Society. The following gentlemen were elected officers: President, Dr. S. P. Craig; Vice President, Mr. A. A. Warren; Secretary, Mr. W. J. McAllister; Treasurer, Mr. Joseph Grimes. All of the above named gentlemen have, we believe, had experience in organizations of this kind and we predict that the society will be a success.

A New Ordinance.

The authorities of the town of Stanford have enacted that each person who runs a hack, coach, spring-wagon, or other vehicle within and from the town, for the accommodation of the traveling public, (regular stage coaches excepted) shall obtain a license therefor from the Trustees, and pay $5 per year for the privilege, or $2 50 per day. Parties thus engaged had better look well to their interests, else they might become involved in trouble and expense.

Called Court.

Hon. F. T. Fox has ordered a special equity and criminal term of the Lincoln County Court, to be held on Wednesday, August 21st, and continue until the cases presented are disposed of. As several important criminal cases are to be tried, the term promises to be an interesting one.

Accommodation Train.

The train running to Richmond will lie over at the depot at this place till five o'clock on both days of the fair, thus affording persons in Madison and Garrard counties an opportunity to attend our fair and return the same day.

Walnut Stumps.

Here is something for the farmer: It is said that "walnut stumps have become an article of merchandise, and many of them are very valuable. The curly grain of the roots is used for veneering, and some stumps are worth $10, after being properly worked into shape.

Born.

To the wife of John C. Cooper, Esq., of this place, on the 23rd inst., a son. Weight, ten pounds.

Farmers' Club.

Our farmers will please remember that the club will meet on Saturday the 27th. A full meeting is requested.

FROM HUSTONVILLE.

HUSTONVILLE, Ky., July 24, 1872.

Correspondence Interior Journal.

It is a jubilation this morning. A glorious rain visited us during the night; and an abatement of water carts is up for afternoon. The physical world is blessed.

Our town and county has been unusually quiet for the last few weeks. No sensational rumor or important events have occurred recently. Our merchants, lawyers, doctors, hotel keepers and others are quietly taking their rest, waiting for customers, trouble, sickness and travelers, their greatest consolation being found in the columns of the INTERIOR JOURNAL, New York Tribune and Courier-Journal, all of which are assiduously at work to save our country from ruin.
